Glenn Kefford

Glenn.Kefford@mq.edu.au www.glennkefford.com

Academic Employment

2019	Lecturer in Political Science, School of Political Science and International Studies, University of Queensland
2019	Senior Lecturer in Political Science, Department of Modern History, Politics and International Relations, Macquarie University
2017-18	Lecturer in Public Policy, Department of Modern History, Politics and International Relations, Macquarie University
2014-17	Lecturer in Politics and International Relations, School of Social Sciences, University of Tasmania

Education

2013	Doctor of Philosophy, Griffith University
2006	Master of International Relations, Curtin University
2003	Bachelor of Commerce, Griffith University

Publications

Books

Kefford, G., Murphy-Gregory, H., Ward, I., Cox, L., Jackson, S. 2018. Contemporary Australian Politics: Old Institutions, New Challenges. Melbourne: Cambridge University Press.

Kefford, G. 2015. 'All Hail the Leaders: The Australian Labor Party and Political Leadership'. Melbourne: Australian Scholarly Publishing.

Book Chapters

Kefford, G. 2019. 'Minor Parties' Campaigns' in Great Expectations: The 2019 Australian Federal Election, edited by A Gauja, M Sawer and M Simms. ANU Press. (forthcoming).

Kefford, G. 2018. 'Minor Parties' Campaigns' in Double Disillusion: The 2016 Australian Federal Election, edited by A Gauja, P Chen, J Pietsch and J Curtin. ANU Press. pp 335-358.

Refereed Journal Articles

Kefford, G and Weeks, L. 2018. 'Minority party government and independent MPs: a comparative analysis of Australia and Ireland'. In Parliamentary Affairs. Available online first: https://doi.org/10.1093/pa/gsy037

Kefford, G. 2018. 'Digital Media, Ground Wars and Party Organisation: Does Stratarchy Explain How Parties Organise Election Campaigns'. Parliamentary Affairs. Available online first: https://doi.org/10.1093/pa/gsx084

Kefford, G and McDonnell, D. 2018. 'Inside the Personal Party: Leader-Owners, Light Organizations and Limited Lifespans'. British Journal of Politics and International Relations. Vol. 20, Issue 2, 379–394.

Kefford, G. 2017. 'Rethinking Small Political Parties: From Micro to Peripheral'. Australian Journal of Political Science. Volume 52, Issue 1, pp.95-109.

Kefford, G and McDonnell, D. 2016. 'Ballots and Billions: Clive Palmer's Personal Party'. Australian Journal of Political Science, Volume 51, Issue 2, pp. 183-197.

Kefford, G. 2016. 'Agency, Institutional Stretch and Structural Adjustment: The Australian Labor Party 2006-2013'. Party Politics, Volume 22, Issue 4, pp. 512-521.

Kefford, G and Power, L. 2014. 'Robo-Call Usage by Australian Political Parties: The Case of the Spooky Vote-Hunting Robot'. Communication, Politics and Culture, Volume 47, Issue 1, pp.1-16.

Kefford, G and Morgenbesser, L. 2013. 'Bridging the Information Gap: The Results from a Survey of Politics and International Relations PhD Students in Australia'. Australian Journal of Political Science, Volume 48, Issue 4, pp.507-518.

Kefford, G. 2013. 'The Presidentialisation of Australian Politics? Kevin Rudd's Leadership of the Australian Labor Party'. Australian Journal of Political Science, Volume 48, Issue 2, pp.135-146.

Non-Refereed Journal Articles

Kefford, G. 2013. 'A Rejoinder to Keith Dowding' Australian Journal of Political Science, Volume 48, Issue 2, pp.150-151.

Recent Conference, Seminar & Workshop Presentations (Selection)

'Data, Digital and Field: Political Parties and 21st Century Campaigning', Presented at QUT Digital Media Research Centre, Friday Seminar Series, 12 April, 2019.

'Cyber Parties or Cyber Consultants? Digital Campaigning in Australia'. Presented at the Political Organisation and Participation Annual Workshop, Macquarie University, 26-27 November 2018.

'How Populist are the People? Populist Radical Right Attitudes in Australia, the US and the UK' Presented to the Politics and Data Workshop, University of Sydney, 23 November October 2018.

'How Populist are the People? Populist Radical Right Attitudes in Australia, the US and the UK' Presented in the Department of Modern History, Politics and International Relations Seminar Series, Macquarie University, 3 October 2018.

'The Electoral Context' contributed as part of a Special Federal Election Seminar for the Institute for the Study of Social Change, Hobart, 29 June 2016.

'Trialling the Flipped Classroom in the Politics and International Relations Program UTAS Teaching Matters Annual Conference, Hobart 2 December 2015.

'The Plutocrat Party: When the Leader is the Owner'. Electoral Regulation Research Network Seminar, Hobart, 23 October 2015.

Presentation at Annual Conferences

AusPSA: 2012; 2014; 2015; 2016; 2017; 2018; 2019

ECPR: 2015

UK PSA: 2013

Media Commentary & Opinion Pieces (Selection)

‘With one click, the Liberals inadvertently unleashed the ultimate election scare campaign’ Sydney Morning Herald, 1 June, 2019.

‘Commentary on Digital Campaigning’ 2SER Daily Show, 15 May, 2019.

‘After data scandals, Australia faces an election under heavy profiling’, Reuters, 5 May, 2019.

‘As voters tune out, “old fashioned” ad campaigns are still in favour’, Sydney Morning Herald, 30 April, 2019.

‘Clive Palmer banking on big spending election campaign’ ABC’s The World Today, 23 April, 2019.

‘What the major parties think you will click on in your Facebook timeline’ SBS, 18 April, 2019.

‘Digital campaigning on sites like Facebook is unlikely to swing the election’ The Conversation, 15 April, 2019.

‘Facebook and Instagram won't change voters' minds’ The Lighthouse, Macquarie University Research Stories, 15 April, 2019.

‘In the lead up to this year’s election, digital discord is brewing in Australia’ Which-50, 4 Feb 2019.

‘Grim outlook for Australian right points to another change in leadership’ The Japan Times, 2 Feb 2019.

‘Nigel Farage is heading to Australia - but is it ready for the 'global revolution'?’ The Telegraph, UK, 29 August 2018.

‘Australia: Scott Morrison to replace ousted Malcolm Turnbull as prime minister’, Deutsche Welle, 24 August 2018.

‘Republicans and Democrats are more polarized on immigration than parties in the U.K. or Australia. Here’s why’, The Washington Post, 16 August 2018, with Shaun Ratcliff.

‘What do voters in the Govt's most marginal seat make of the leadership challenge?’, ABC Radio AM Program, 22 August 2018.

‘Electoral watchdog powerless to crack down on offshore political ads targeting Australians’, The Guardian, 24 July 2018.

‘Facebook v face-to-face, the way pollies try to win you over’…ABC, 18 February 2018.

‘Major Party, Minor Party, Micro Party: Does it Matter What We Call Parties?’, APSA Standing Group on Political Organisation and Participation Blog, 31 March 2017.

‘Election robocalls annoying voters but left unregulated’, The World Today ABC Radio, 5 July 2016.

‘Commentary on the Greens’, 936 ABC Radio Hobart, 5 July 2016.

‘Federal election: Eric Abetz backs hierarchy after Amigos swept’, The Mercury, 4 July 2016.

‘Election 2016: Nick Xenophon Team Tasmanian Senate candidate ruled out’ ABC News, 30 June 2016.

‘Democracy Comes at a Cost Whether Voters Like it or Not’, The Mercury, 6 June 2015.

‘Give more power to the People’. The Mercury, 18 April 2016.

‘The Rise and Fall of PUP is not just about Clive’. APSA Standing Group on Political Organisation and Participation Blog, 14 March 2016.

‘Palmer United Party is a vehicle for its leader, but it was successful while it lasted’, The Sydney Morning Herald, 17 Feb 2016.

‘Personalised Politics: When the Leader’s Word is Law’, The Age, 16 April 2015.

‘With her network, Lambie sets herself up as a Tasmanian Pauline Hanson’, The Guardian, 1 April 2015.

‘Jacqui Lambie ponders formation of political party’ Sydney Morning Herald, 14 January 2015.

Teaching

Courses Convened 2013-

Introduction to Politics and Policy
Introduction to Australian Politics
Contemporary Australian Politics: Race, Nation, Class and Gender
Parties, Elections and Campaigns
Governance, Power and Public Policy
Politics and Policy: Theory and Applications
Public Policy Dissertation
Internship Project
Media and Politics
Parties, Leaders, Elections and Campaigns
Rhetoric, Spin and the Media
Case Studies in Politics and Policy

Other Teaching 2009-

Introduction to Politics
Government Business Relations
Comparative European Politics
Mechanics of Power
Australian Politics
Research Methods
Politics and the State
Parties, Populism and the Radical Right
US Foreign Policy
Introduction to American Politics

Key Service & Administrative Positions

2018	Curriculum Working Group Member for the Department of Modern History, Politics and International Relations, Macquarie University
2018	Workload Committee Member for the Department of Modern History, Politics and International Relations, Macquarie University
2017-18	Program Convenor of the Master of Politics and Public Policy, Macquarie University
2015	Honours Co-ordinator for Politics and International Relations, UTAS

Professional Affiliations, Visiting Positions and Training

2019-21	Honorary Senior Lecturer, Macquarie University
2019	Fundamentals of Statistics, Australian Consortium of Political and Social Research
2019	Visitor, Digital Methods Research Centre, QUT
2016-	Co-convenor of APSA's Political Organisations and Participation standing group
2015-16	Convenor for Tasmania of the Electoral Regulation Research Network
2014-	Member of APSA's Political Organisations and Participation standing group
2013-	Member of ECPR Standing Group on Political Parties
2013-	Member of IPSA RC 23 Elections, Citizens and Parties
2010-	Member of the Australian Political Studies Association
2009-	Member of the National Tertiary Education Union

Research Supervision

2018	Renee Preval-Mann, Master of Research, 'Has the Emergence of a Radical Right Party Mainstreamed Radical Right Attitudes and Policy in Australia?'. Awarded Master of Research and has begun a Doctoral degree.
2016	Brigette Metzler, Honours, 'Policy as a Means to Create Social Change: A Comparative Analysis of Two Nordic Countries'. Awarded First Class Honours and currently enrolled in a PhD at UQ with an APA scholarship.
2015-16	Megan Tighe, Doctor of Philosophy, 'Unnatural Partners? Green Parties in Centre-Right Governments (Roles, Rationales and Results)'. PhD ongoing.

Grants, Awards & Nominations

2019-21	Discovery Early Career Researcher Award, ARC ($374,000)
2018	Joint Winner, Faculty of Arts, ECR Research Excellence Prize ($2500)
2018	Faculty Research Travel Grant ($1920)
2018	APSA Workshop Grant ($7417)
2017	New Researcher Grant, Macquarie University ($19,191)
2017	Faculty Research Travel Grant ($2300)
2017	Faculty of Arts Early Career Researcher Fellowship Semester 2 ($5000)
2016	Teaching Commendation for Outstanding Delivery of HPP101
2015	Teaching Commendation for Outstanding delivery of HPP204/304
2015	Institute for the Study of Social Change, UTAS, Small Grants ($3300)
2014	University of Tasmania Research Conference Support Scheme ($2500)
2012	Won, Best Post-Graduate Paper, APSA Conference
2012	Australian Political Studies Association Travel Grant 2012 ($800)
2011-12	Griffith University Postgraduate Award (approx. $46,000)

Expert Reviews

2013-	Australian Journal of Political Science, Australian Journal of Politics and History, International Political Science Review, Government and Opposition, Parliamentary

Affairs, Policy Studies, Party Politics, Political Studies, British Journal of Politics and International Relations, Bristol University Press, Springer, Australian Research Council

Referees

Professor Ariadne Vromen - Department of Government and International Relations, University of Sydney, (02) 9351 6602 – Ariadne.Vromen@sydney.edu.au

Professor Darren Halpin – School of Politics and International Relations, Australian National University, (02) 6125 4825 - Darren.Halpin@anu.edu.au